

SINGLE EQUALITY POLICY STATEMENT

Farsley Farfield Primary School

Vision and values

At Farsley Farfield we aim to provide a caring and nurturing environment where all children achieve their potential, becoming confident individuals and successful learners who can work collaboratively and communicate effectively. Through responsive and reflective teaching and a curriculum which is engaging, relevant, challenging and fun, our children develop the skills they need to become lifelong learners and to have a love of learning. We promote the importance of respect and community and aim for our children to become responsible citizens who make a positive contribution to society and show respect towards all others. We encourage our children to demonstrate resilience and perseverance when faced with challenge as it is our overarching aim for everyone at Farsley Farfield to 'Be the best you can be'.

At Farsley Farfield Primary School we continuously strive to ensure that everyone in our community is treated with respect and dignity. Everyone will be given fair and equal opportunities to develop to their full potential with positive regard to gender, ethnicity, cultural and religious background, sexuality or disability.

School context

Farfield Primary School is a two-form entry primary school serving a large urban village. The school is part of the Pudsey extended services Cluster and the Pudsey Family of Schools. There are 450 pupils on roll of whom over a third are of a BME background, predominantly of South Asian descent. Our major catchment area is a former council estate on the edge of the suburb of Farsley, but we also pull a significant number of children from the Bradford side of the ring road, including children from the deprived area of Bradford Moor. We have a lower than average number of children on the SEN register, but a relatively high number of funded SEND children, including a number with physical disabilities.

What we mean by equality

At Farsley Farfield Primary School we understand equality to mean treating everyone with equal dignity and worth valuing their characteristics such as their age, disability, gender, ethnicity, religion or belief, sexual orientation and socio-economic circumstances. We further understand that people have different needs, situations and goals and therefore achieving equality requires the removal of discriminatory barriers that limit what people, especially children and young people can do and can be. We recognise that inequality can be experienced in a variety of ways such as through outcomes, access to services, the degree of independence to make decisions affecting lives and inequality of treatment, including in relation to employment, through direct and indirect discrimination or disadvantage imposed by other individuals, groups, institutions or systems intentionally or inadvertently.

1. Introduction

Under The Equality Act 2010 and The Equality Act 2010 \(Specific Duties\) Regulations 2017 schools are no longer required to publish an equality scheme or action plan. The statutory requirements are for governing bodies of all maintained schools and academies to:

- draw up and publish equality objectives every four years;
- annually publish information demonstrating how they are meeting the aims of the general public sector equality duty
- draw up an accessibility plan¹ and review this every three years

It is still good practice however, for schools to make a statement about the principles used to review the impact on equalities of its policies and procedures, to identify how it fulfils its specific duties to publish information and how specific objectives will be determined and measured.

2. The legal framework

We welcome our duties under:

1. The Equality Act 2010 to eliminate discrimination, advance equality of opportunity and foster good relations in relation to the protected characteristics of;
 - age (as appropriate for schools);
 - disability;
 - gender reassignment;
 - marriage and civil partnership;
 - pregnancy and maternity;
 - race;
 - religion and belief;
 - sex;
 - sexual orientation
2. The Public Sector Equality Duty to assess the impact of our policies and practices on staff and pupils and take action to remove any obstacles identified, having due regard to:
 - Eliminating unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation.
 - Advancing equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.
 - Fostering good relations across all protected characteristics between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.

3. Guiding principles

In fulfilling our statutory duties, we are guided by seven principles:

Principle 1: All members of the school and wider community are of equal value

We see all members of the school and wider community of equal value:

- whether or not they are disabled
- whatever their ethnicity, culture, national origin or socio-economic circumstances
- whatever their gender and sexual identity
- whatever their religious or non-religious affiliation or background
- whatever their age

Principle 2: We recognise and respect diversity

Treating people equally does not necessarily involve treating them all the same. Our policies, procedures and activities must not discriminate, but are differentiated, as appropriate, to take account of differences of life-experience, outlook and background, and in the kinds of barrier and disadvantage which people may face, in relation to:

- disability, so that reasonable adjustments are made;
- ethnicity, so that different cultural backgrounds and experiences of prejudice are recognised;
- gender and sexual orientation so that the different needs and experiences of girls and boys, women and men lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender people are recognised;
- religion belief or faith background;
- sexual identity; and
- age (where appropriate).

Principle 3: We foster positive attitudes and relationships, and a shared sense of cohesion and belonging

We intend that our policies, procedures and activities should promote:

- positive attitudes towards disabled people, good relations between disabled and non-disabled people, and an absence of harassment of disabled people;
- positive interaction, good relations and dialogue between groups and communities different from each other in terms of ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, or national origin, and an absence of prejudice-related bullying and incidents;
- mutual respect and good relations between boys and girls, women and men, lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender people and an absence of sexual and homophobic harassment; and
- promote positive intergenerational attitudes and relationships.

Principle 4: We will ensure that the recruitment, retention and ongoing development of staff is undertaken in a fair and equitable manner to support our school's vision and values

Policies and procedures should benefit all employees and potential employees, for example in recruitment and promotion, and in continuing professional development:

- whether or not they are disabled;
- whatever their ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, or national origin;
- whichever their gender and sexual identity and with full respect for legal rights relating to pregnancy and maternity; and
- whatever their age

Principle 5: We aim to reduce and remove inequalities and barriers that already exist

In addition to avoiding or minimising possible negative impacts, we take opportunities to maximise positive impacts by reducing and removing inequalities and barriers that may already exist between:

- disabled and non-disabled people
- people of different ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds;
- girls and boys, women and men;
- lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender; and

- age (where appropriate).

Principle 6: We consult widely

People affected by a policy or activity should be consulted and involved in the design of new policies, and in the review of existing ones. Where possible we consult and involve:

- disabled people as well as non-disabled;
- people from a range of ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds;
- both women and men, and girls and boys;
- lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender people; and
- people of different ages and generations.

Principle 7: We feel that the community as a whole should benefit

We intend that our policies and activities should benefit society as a whole, both locally and nationally, by fostering greater social cohesion, and greater participation in public life of:

- disabled people as well as non-disabled;
- people of a wide range of ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds;
- both women and men, girls and boys,
- lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender people; and
- people of different ages and between generations.

4. Practical application of these principles

In the light of the principles stated above the following characteristics have been considered in order to identify practical objectives and plans of specific action:

- disability
- ethnicity
- gender
- sexual orientation
- religion and belief
- age

These objectives are published on the school's website²

5. The curriculum

We will actively seek opportunities to review the curriculum in order to ensure that teaching and learning reflect the seven principles outlined above.

6. Training and development

We will ensure staff and governors are offered the opportunity to engage in appropriate training and development to support the achievement of the seven principles.²

7. Ethos and organisation

We ensure that the principles listed above apply also to the full range of our policies and practices, including those that are concerned with:

- pupils' progress, attainment and assessment;
- pupils' and staff personal development, welfare and well-being;

² Equality training for governors can be booked through Leeds for Learning

- working with the wider community;
- participation of groups in wider school activities; and

8. Addressing prejudice and prejudice-related bullying

The school is opposed to all forms of prejudice which stand in the way of fulfilling legal duties for all aspects of equality:

- prejudices related to disability and special educational needs
- prejudices related to racism and xenophobia, including those that are directed towards religious groups and communities, for example anti-Semitism and Islamophobia, and those that are directed against Travellers, refugees and people seeking asylum
